

Sally Ike earned her A Eventing certification from Monmouth County Hunt Pony Club. She has served as a national examiner, district commissioner, regional supervisor and on the board of governors. Sally current holds her "S" license as an eventing judge and technical delegate. Sally remains involved in many other aspects of the equestrian community, serving as chairman of the Essex Fox Hounds Hunt committee, secretary of the Show Jumping Hall of Fame board and a member of United States Hunter Jumper Association (USHJA) jumper working group.

Carol Kozlowski earned her A Eventing certification from Genessee Valley Pony Club. She is a graduate of State University of New York Geneseo with a BA in sociology, minor in biology. Carol served as a President of the United States Eventing Association from 2017-2020, after six years on the executive committee as Vice President of Safety. She currently sits on the United States Equestrian Federation Board of Governors as an eventing representative, as well as president of the Genesee Valley Riding and Driving Club. She holds a "r" eventing judge license. She is current owner and president of Mothersfield, Inc., a 20-stall boarding and training facility.